General Grant Wearing Out. Mr. McGasson, July 10.-Soon after 11 o'clock last night General Grant was asleep. At 3 o'clock this morning the rain tell in torrents, with thunder and lightning, but the General slept through the storm until 4 o'clock, when Dr. Douglass awakened him to administer food and tpeatment. "It has been raining very heavily," remarked the physician to the General, as the latter was taking nourishment. The patient glanced up in some surprise, but upon again being assured of the fact he wrote to the doctor: "You must have been dreaming I heard no rain and I have been here all the time." Dr. Douglas enjoyed thoroughly the humor of the sally. From four o'clock until nearly seven the sick man slept and

A Procession of Twelve Hundred Strikers March From the Fourteenth Ward Into the City.

Fears of an Attack on the Screw Works Calls Out a Heavy Force of Police-A Committee Confers With Mayor Gardner.

NO CHANGE IN THE STRIKE. CLEVELAND, O., July 10.-The situation remained unchanged last night so far as the precautionary arrangements down town were concerned. The Central Police Station was full of patrolmen, and outside stood two four-horse busses, which were to convey the men wherever needed.

At the City Armory detachments of the Grays, the Light Artillery and the Fifth Regiment O. N. G. are on duty ready to

At about nine o'clock yesterday morning, news reached the Central Station from the Eighteenth ward that a procession of strikers making over 1,200, had just left the corner of Broadway and Hamm streets, and were marching towards the city. A band of music was at their head, and they were flying the stars and stripes. An hour later, and just as the strains of music were beginning to be heard from an Superior Street a scenario stars and stripes. An hour later, and just as the strains of music were beginning to be heard from up Superior Street, a second message was received to send help at once to the screw works, on the corner of Case and Payne Avenues. At the command, "Fall in," given by Lieutenant Koch, forty patrolmen sprang to their places, and in a brief space of time they had filled the two large busses, and, under charge of Sergeant Dunn, were whirling away in the direction of the screw works. When they reached the City Hall the head of the procession was just passing there. The strikers were marching quietly and orderly, and on reaching Ontario Street they turned up toward Broadway. The men composing the procession all carried clubs, but they were evidently undecided what to do, or where to go. It was reported that they intended to visit Mesars. Chisholm's office, and further that they would call on the Mayor and demand satisfaction, but no such action was mand satisfaction, but no such action was taken, and it was sincerely hoped that they will do nothing to precipitate an open out-

Sergeant Dunn returned to the Central Station at noon. He reported that when he reached the screw works, he found several They were there simply as sight seers, and had gathered in anti-ipation of possible trouble. None of the strikers came in the vicinity of the works.

When it was learned that the strikers were coming from the Fourtheanth word.

coming from the Fourteenth ward a group penter, General M. D. Leggett, L. E. Hold-en and John C. Coffinberry, of the Advisory Committee appointed at Wednesday's meeting of citizens in the Mayor's office. Be-sides these Sheriff Dewstoe, W. C. McFar-land, Esq., Councilmen Bayne and Penneland, Esq., Councilmen Bayne and Penne-well were present.

Information was received that the strikers had started for the city. Then came word that they had turned up Frie Street, and fears were entertained that they were going up Euclid Avenue to make a raid on the manufacturing establishments of the Cleve-land & Pittsburgh Railroad, near the cross-ing at the avenue. General Barnett secured a buggy and drove to Erie Street, where he found the strikers. He saw them ness down found the strikers. He saw them pass down Euclid Avenue and turn down into Superior Street, and then he returned to the City

In a few minutes the music of a band was heard and the column of strikers was seen approaching. They had a band, but did not keep step to the music. The red banner could not be seen, the only ensign affoat being the American flag. As they marched past the City Hall they presented a formidable appearance. They numbered fully 1,200, and every man of them carried a club, some of which were cruel looking

The procession did not stop, but continued on to the square and marched out Broadway but a committee who had been appointed by them dropped out of the ranks and went into the Mayor's office. There they had a long talk with the Mayor and the members of the advisory committee. Mayor Gardner advised them not to parade any more, and he sternly warned them against carrying arms, or attempting to break into any more manufacturing estab-lishments. He told them that he had power to suppress any lawlessness on their part and that he would do it; and that if any rioting was done the strikers would be con-fronted by a gatling gun handled in dead earnest. He had contemplated going with the committee, as an individual, he said, to talk with Mr. William Chisholm. He had telephoned to Mr. Chisholm and that gentleman had informed him that all the company wished to say to the strikers had been said in their circular. The Mayor again warned the men against being disorderly, and advised them to go peaceably to their homes. The members of the committee had little to say in reply and departed.

Shippard Mill Burned.

LOUISVILLE, July 10.-The large mill connected with S. Barmore & Sons' shipyard in Jeffersonville, Ind., opposite this eity, burned yesterday morning. Loss esti-mated at $50,000; only insured for a small amount. The fire originated in the mold loft, and everything was ablaze before an alarm could be turned in. About 150 men are thrown out of employment by the fire. The mill was one of the largest in the West. Barmore has been very unfortunate, having been twice burned out before. Two large boats under construction were saved by the efforts of the employes. Large lots of lum-ber were also burned.

Brown and his wife (colored) have several children. The youngest, aged three years, had been complaining of illness, and the father gave it a small dose of landanum. Both parents then went to their work in the fields. A son six years old got the bottle of laudanum and gave all the contents to the rest of the children. Two were dead when the parents returned to the house, and two more are not expected to live.

LAWLESSNESS IN ALABAMA. A Prohibition County Overrun With "Jug Lines"—A Number of Murders is the Consequence. BROKEN ARROW, Ala., July 10 .- A dedorable state of lawlessness exists in St. Clair County, which is known as a "dry" county, and has a large mining population. It was hoped that the prohibition of liquor traffic would work a reformation, but in this hope the people have been disappointed. Among the casualties occurring within a short time past, are the following: Three weeks ago Richard Lewis quarreled with the cook of the Broken Arrow Hotel. The cook was subsequently found dead, having been shot. He was buried quietly, almost stealthily, and no effort was made to discover the cause of his death, or punish the guilty parties. A week later, at Rayland, near here, two farmers were riding quietly along the road, when they suddenly found themselves amid a shower of shot, and it was only by a marvellous chance that they escaped assassi-

Prominent liquor dealers in Rome, Ga. have established what is called a "jug line."
In this way, large quantities of whisky are conveyed into the country marked "merchandise," and taken to obscure places, where the men get drunk, and murder often follows. Efforts are being made to get the State authorities to act in the matter.

Found Four Lizards in His Stomach.

ORANGEBURG, S. C., July 9 .- Samuel Crowell, an aged negro, on the farm of John P. Cuttino, twenty miles from this place, while chopping wood Tuesday morning was taken violently iil. Doctor Dally, of this place, was called and found the old man in convulsions. He kept grasping at his sides convuisions. He kept grasping at his sides as if something was guawing at his vitals. The physician observing this administered an emetic. Soon after taking the medicine the old man began vomitting and within ten minutes had ejected from his stomach six full grown lizards. The old darkey soon began to improve and in a couple of hours was able to get out of bed. Investigation proves that four years ago while drinking from a spring, the negro swallowed what at from a spring, the negro swallowed what al that time he said was a lizard, but as it gave him no trouble he soon forgot all about it. DARING ROBBERY. Two Men Enter a House at Chicago in Broad Daylight and Bind and Gag : Woman and Rob Her of $1,030.

CHICAGO, July 10.—At noon Wednesday two men dressed like mechanics, went to the house of Thomas Smith, a draughtsman at No. 50 Eldridge Court. Mrs. Smith was home alone. One of the men had a bag of tools. They said they were plumbers sent by the landlord and she unsuspectingly showed them into the kitchen. There they felled her to the floor by a blow and before she had time to cry out they choked her to insensibility. A towel was used as a gag. The robbers then tore open, her dress containing $1,030. Before they had left there was a ring at the bell. One of them went to the door and told the gentleman and wife who called, that Mrs. Smith was too Ill to see them. Then the men discussed the the house on fire or by drowning here in the bath tub. They finally gave up the ldea, however, and escaped, leaving her lying on the floor. In half an hour she succeeded in releasing herself and raised an alarm. The Pall Mall Gazette Reaping a Rich Harvest From Its Recent Secret Vice Disclosures.

The Streets Around the Office Packed With a Mass of Excited People Strugling to Purchase Copies -Earthquakes in Cashmere.

the exposure of London secret vice made by the Pall Mall Gazette continues unabated The demand for copies of the paper is enormous. \Large crowds surround the publishing office, and extra police have been ordered on duty to keep the passageways open through the surrounding streets, and to protect the Gazette building from being approached by persons having no legitimate usiness therein. The Crown lawyers are considering the advisability of prosecuting the publishers of the paper, and their decision is awaited with anxiety. The Patt Matt Gazette last evening pub-The Pall Mall Gazette last evening published an editorial thanking the city authorities for attempting to suppress the sales of the paper "thereby breaking the conspiracy of silence maintained by the press concerning the Gazette's revelations. Police seizures of newspapers are common in Vienna," continues the Gazette, "but such high-handed outrages on the freedom of the press should have been impossible in London." * * "Instead of waging war against street boys, let the authorities take action against the responsible parties in this business. If we have published anything obscene, let them prosecute us. We deny that anything has been publishing by us deserving that censure, and we declare the authorities cowards or worse, if they fail to proceed against us or worse, if they fail to proceed against us after having charged in open court that the Pall Mall Gazette was an obscene publica-tion." * "We rejuctantly adopted

In the House of Commons last evening the Criminal Law Amendment bill was re-ported by the committee having it in charge. A fierce debate arose, and the strong feeling for and against the bill led many members beyond the limits of Parliamentary usages in the employment of personal allusions. The bill was finally read a second time and recommitted. It is reported that the virtual shelving of this bill by its reference to a committee already overwhelmed with work, was the ostensible reason for the revelations made by the Pall Mall Gazette, and it is because of these revelations that the com-mittee has subordinated everything before it

The Right Honorable George A. Bentinek, conservative M. P. for White Haven, and formerly Judge Advocate General, published letter in yesterday's St. James Gazette, denouncing the conduct of the editor of the Patt Malt Gazette. Mr. Bentinek alleges that Mr. Stead, chief editor of the Patt Malt Gazette, on the 4th of June, requested an interview with him on the subject of the criminal law amendment bill.

"I received him," continued Mr. Ben-tinek, "at my house, and answered all in-quiries on condition that the information I gave him should be considered absolutely confidential. Mr. Stead accepted this con-dition without reserve, but Wednesday night he violated his promise by publishing a private letter on this subject which I lent
